"I see business as an extension of the internal space of the leader. In order to change business leader must change himself".

The Core Idea of the Seminar:

This training offers new sophisticated techniques for working with internal states which influence our perspectives. External obstacles loose status of objective reasons. In this approach, they are treated as extensions of internal restrictions of the leader as a result of distortions and errors of perception rather than objective features of the external world.

The training offers a unique technology called „tracking“ of these restrictions. Then, in order to discard them, energy practices are used. They allow you to create a new picture of the world in which all the problems are easily solved.

Seminar fee: 1000 EUR.
